

DRUMMING AND DANCING TO DUKE

LONNIE TIMMONS III | THE PLAIN DEALER

Seven-year-old Michaela Wilbert of Cleveland plays a Darbuka on Saturday during the Passport Project's "Dancing with Duke: Ellington's World Inspiration." The drum belonged to local musician Shai Azulay, and the event was part of the Tri-C JazzFest activities at the Children's Museum of Cleveland. The educational and entertainment festival runs through next Sunday at various locations. For information, go to www.tricjazzfest.com/
